What is OSA CON about?

OSA CON is the go-to conference for all things Open Source Analytics. We're all about bringing together data scientists, engineers, analysts, infrastructure gurus and product managers along with Open Source communities and leaders.

Participants will get to learn, share, connect and discuss the latest developments in Open Source analytics; data ingestion, orchestration, databases, infrastructure, governance, visualization and AI, the whole modern data stack.

In 2023, OSA CON is going big. We're reaching out to every major open source project. We're also emphasizing the acceleration of AI and its profound impact on the world. We'll be looking at ways that AI is changing analytics—and also where it's not.

We're therefore introducing an AI track, focusing on how builders are integrating AI into their products, communities, and changing the data landscape.
